“ Denise Ornelas lit a candle in memory of Elizabeth Kerr

“ I met Ann in 1988.I moved to California and I became best friends with her daughter Deanna. Ann was like a mom to me and she took me under wing. I was so saddened to hear of her passing. I know she went to heaven and was greeted by her loving daughter Deanna. She is with the Lord now and is healthy and in peace. I will forever love her as a second mom. Denise Ornelas

“ Although I saw my cousin Elizabeth Ann only a few times, my first memory will remain the most vivid. I was not quite 5, Ann was barely 14, and she came up to Mill Creek to babysit me. We had just moved into a new, strange (at least to me) house, which probably didn't help as I stood in our backyard watching my parents drive away. I panicked! I can still see Ann, bent over our wringer washer with her arms filled with laundry, realizing that I was about to bolt! Indeed, I did. I streaked across our yard, over the neighbor's fence, racing to the road where I guess I hoped to catch up with Mom and Dad. It was when I saw that Ann was much closer to me than my parents' car that I stopped running. For the next hour, I don't think Ann was more than 5 feet away!

Not long ago I discovered a family picture that told me a lot about my cousin. We are somewhere in the California desert, and Mom, Dad, Ken, Galen, Lynn and Bill, and others are there. Mom and Dad are spreading out a picnic. I'm about 2, and guess who's holding me and keeping me safe--11 year old Elizabeth Ann. The thing that means the most to me is the obvious happiness Ann displays as she looks after her tiny little cousin. Thank you, Ann, for being loving and caring. Thank you for being someone in this world who gave love.

“ I don't believe in death
Who comes in silent stealth
He robs us only of a breath
Not of a lifetime's wealth
I don't believe the tomb
Imprisons us in earth
It's but another loving womb
Preparing our new birth
I do believe in life
Empowered from above
Till freed from stress and worldly strife
We soar through realms above
I do believe that then
In joy that never ends
We'll meet all those we've loved, again
And celebrate our friends...

We will miss you.

“ We will miss a bright and bubbly dear relative. She is now at rest after years of difficulty spiced with good memories and bright spots. In her weakness she was incredibly strong, with a prevailing faith. Warm wishes and blessings to her family: Galen, Suzzie, John, Stanley.
